

(*): data on the strength and significance of association of each gene with the phenotype being studied and/or on the gene expression in each of the replicate samples across all conditions in the study.